SPARKLING VIVONE.

THIS fascinating beverage has since its introduction eighteen months ago, proved a blessing to myriads of consumers. Fever patients say that the inventor must have been one of themselves to have been able to gauge their yearnings so accurately, and that, but for Vivone, they could never have pulled through. Intelligent critics reflect with surprise that they once scoffed at a "wine without alcohol," and now cheerfully endorse the inventor's prospectus. The superiority of Vivone as a beverage is admitted on all hands. To be had at every respectable Refreshment Buffet.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENT.

"A HEATHEN" writes to us again; but a letter so purely theological would be out of place in a secular journal.

The Bombay Gazette

MONDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1882.

THE feebleness of the indictment against Arabi Pasha is an ample justification for the arguments of those who have, from the outset, condemned the proposal to put him formally upon his trial. Egyptian affairs had been worked into such a state of confusion during the late imbroglio that it was technically possible to convict any of the personages connected with the drama of a capital crime, provided only that he had proved the loser in the conflict. Out of the four counts of the indictment there is only the last clause of the fourth which deserves to be treated seriously, and it is perhaps the weakest of all. The charge of violating International Law by withdrawing his troops under cover of a flag of truce will scarcely hold water. As we have previously pointed out, positions have been abandoned under a flag of truce over and over again in accordance with the provisions of refined warfare. When it is remembered that it was merely the possession of the forts of Alexandria that was in dispute, their evacuation by Arabi, being nothing more after all than a tardy acquiescence in the demands of Sir Beauchamp Seymour, cannot now be construed into a crime. If there was any offence in abandoning Alexandria to fire and pillage—in other words, withdrawing the Egyptian troops from the range of British guns—what is to be said about the Admiral, and the Government who instructed him, for bombarding and destroying a foreign city in the presence of a friendly ruler, his army, and his Government? These acts are not to be judged on narrow principles of statute law. They are acts of state policy, and are to be judged in accordance with the dictates of expediency, irrespective of the interpretation of technicalities, or the fate of the parties concerned If Arabi's behaviour justifies his being considered a "violator of International Law," whatever that may amount to, then Sir Beauchamp Seymour's conduct constitutes him a pirate, but in acquitting him we are bound to be equally generous towards the defeated Egyptian. If we examine the second and third counts the flimsiness of the charges becomes doubly apparent. In the third he is indicted for "prosecuting war notwithstanding the peace which existed between Egypt and Great Britain." We do not forget, however, that the Khedive (under whose authority this prosecution is to be conducted) declared Arabi to be a rebel, and dismissed him from his post, because he had not continued, as ordered by the Khedive, to resist the British bombardment after he judged it expedient to retire to Kafr-ed-Dowar. The first act of the war, with which Arabi is charged with prosecuting, was perpetrated by the British fleet. The Khedive's proclamation against Arabi proves that he concurred in the resistance offered to that act of war. As for anything he did or said after falling into the hands of the Admiral, whose acts he had joined in resisting, it was Arabi's bounden duty to disregard it, and observe the spirit of the orders which had been given while the Khedive was free from foreign control. No subject is bound to obey the orders of any Sovereign or Government which is controlled by a hostile Power, and it was because Marshal Bazaine failed to realise this fact that he was convicted as a traitor at Versailles. The second charge stands on the same ground as the third; and must be tested by the loyalty due to a ruler in the custody of a foreign Power. As for inciting the people to civil war, the charge must surely have been suggested as a stroke of humour. Civil war is a war between parties in a state. It would be impossible to establish a state of civil war in Egypt until we had shown that some party in the nation was on our side, and this, we imagine, we would find it rather difficult to do. The criminal indictment against Arabi therefore reduces itself to his possible implication in the Alexandria massacres. We have seen not a shadow of proof that would tend to establish his complicity. Appearances point the other way. If the Government are in possession of any information justifying a contrary conclusion, they have hitherto given no intimation of it, and they may get the benefit of any doubtful point which exists with regard to the case.

The Egyptian Government have reluctantly granted Arabi the services of English counsel at his forthcoming trial. It is easy to understand this reluctance on the part of the Khedive's Government, inasmuch as the employment of English barristers is almost certain to result in Arabi's acquittal. We give the British Government credit for realising all the peculiar circumstances connected with the case. It was stated some time ago that Sir Edward Malet had appealed to Lord Granville to secure legal assistance for Arabi, and it is only reasonable to assume that it is the representations of the British Foreign Office which have induced the Egyptian Government to acquiesce in Sir Edward Malet's demand. The question then arises—what is the object of the British Government in bringing Arabi to trial and at the same time taking precautions to prevent his conviction? It may be that the formality of a trial is to be invoked to vindicate Tewfik's authority, while the intervention of English counsel will guard the defeated leader from the danger of falling a victim to the mere hatred or jealousy of the present Ministry. There may indeed be some deeper motive. It is possible that Arabi's trial may be a diplomatic expedient. The significant announcement of a fact which might otherwise have been taken for granted, that counsel are to be permitted to cross-examine witnesses, gives some appearance of probability to the suspicion. All through this Egyptian difficulty there have been reports, not very tangible many of them, that Arabi was being encouraged by the Sultan, by the French Consul, by the Italians, by M. de Lesseps, and in fact by everybody who exhibited any distrust to the British policy. Many of these rumours may have been inventions, indeed it is more than probable that they were. But on the other hand, it is by no means unlikely that in the initial stages of the revolt Arabi was the recipient of numerous expressions of sympathy from many strange quarters. If his relations with Stamboul were examined, no doubt an interesting chapter of intrigue would be exposed, though our Constantinople correspondent, who is pretty well versed in the ways of the Porte, believes that if the Sultan has acted with habitual shrewdness neither himself nor his principal Ministers are likely to be directly connected with Arabi and his colleagues, though communications were unquestionably maintained through channels which, at a pinch, it would not be difficult to disavow. It may also be suggested that in sifting the case thoroughly the Government may be anxious to enable the Khedive to show that the complicity which Arabi alleges against him was due to com- pulsion. But the attitude of the Egyptian Government disproves this theory. On the whole the diplomatic explanation is the more reasonable, though we would not pin our faith even upon it. Lord Granville is, no doubt, aware of everything that is likely to be disclosed at the trial. It is for him to judge whether its publication would serve our purposes better than its preservation among the secrets of the Foreign Office, or its confidential circulation among the European Governments. Prince Bismarck has set an example of a judiciously candid diplomacy which served its immediate purpose very effectually, and possibly Lord Granville desires to turn that example to profit. The discovery of duplicity at Constantinople, or some indiscretion on the part of our Continental allies, would put Mr. Gladstone right in the eyes of his followers and the country, especially if the occupation of Egypt is prolonged. Whether it would be equally beneficial to our interests generally is a question which, without the information in possession of the Government, it would not be possible at this moment to decide.

SOME interesting facts are brought to light in he last Administration Report of the Central Provinces. We have heard a good many complaints in Bombay about the relative educational inequality among Mahomedans and Hindoos, and the consequent unproportionate employment of the two classes in the public service. A very different state of things is reported from the Central Provinces. In the population of the khalsa the Hindoos number no less than 74 per cent. and the Mahomedans only 2·8. Yet, Mr. Morris states, the latter "manage fully to hold their own in the battle of life. A considerably larger percentage of them than of the Hindoos avail themselves of the education offered at the schools of the Province, and are employed under Government." There is no explanation given of this unusual circumstance, which, if the bald fact be accepted, would imply that the Mahomedans of this Presidency are less industrious or less intelligent than their co-religiouists of the Central Provinces. It is possible, however, that the Mahomedans referred to are not purely indigenous, but consist of the better class of immigrants from the neighbouring states who have been attracted to their present location by reason of superior prospects. This suggestion seems to be strengthened by the general backwardness of the population. "It is indeed not a little saddening," says Mr. Morris, "to find that only 4·7 of the whole male population are returned as under instruction or able to read and write. The mass of the people are probably as comfortable and contented as in any other part of India; but they are still in a very backward condition." The material comforts and intellectual depression of the indigenous population would, no doubt, tend to attract educated immigrants to the Government service, whose offspring would generally partake of the elevation of their parents and perpetuate education among the members of their own community. The results of experimental farming on the model farm at Nagpore were not quite satisfactory, though the experience gained appears to have been valuable. It is worthy of notice that amidst a general restriction of crops the cultivation of sugarcane was very profitable. This was heavily manured with poudrette and well irrigated; and its out-turn in the compost of sugar and treacle known as ghur amounted to between eighteen and nineteen maunds per acre, worth nearly Rs. 120. The report goes on to point out that "this result has a strong practical bearing on the question of the disposal of city sewage, which is now engaging the attention of the local authorities." With regard to the preservation of forests the agreeable fact is recorded that forest offences were few and trivial, and that "there is no prevailing tendency to break the law, but, on the contrary, the Chief Commissioner has had brought to his notice several instances of the people rendering gratuitously great assistance to the department." The Central Provinces benefited enormously, in the year under review, from the great exportation of grain. The railway traffic returns show that the export of grain last year was double that of the preceding year. The prosperity induced by the increase of trade in this department accounts for the promptitude with which the land revenue was collected; and it may also be credited with having effected a diminution of crime. The progress of such portions of these provinces as have really advanced is due to the opening up of the country by railways. The railway to Amgaum was opened in November last, and this district was enabled to participate in the grain trade, to its immediate advantage. The further extension to Nandgaum is expected to be open shortly, and this work will contribute, it is hoped, greatly to the development of the Chhattisgarh division. The only unsatisfactory matter connected with the provinces is the feudatory states attached to them. These are not only poor and backward, but ill-governed and occasionally turbulent. The most serious difficulty with which the Government had to contend was, of course, the Kalahundi disturbances. In other states, however, matters are not as they ought to be, and out of fifteen states five have had to be placed directly under British control.

HOWEVER ubiquitous may be the modern war correspondent, there must be innumerable incidents in every campaign which escape his observation. In addition to those of a personal character, there are many from which valuable deductions may be drawn. Most of these generally find their way into print when the operations are over and the warriors are fighting their battles over again to their admiring friends at home. Several have been communicated to us which are not without interest and instruction. It may be remembered that when Mr. Childers, in accordance with the precipitate action of Lord Hartington in Opposition, with regard to flogging in the army, abolished it, many cogent objections were stated to the application of the substituted punishments—carrying weights, cart-chaining, &c.—to the British army. Among other things it was contended that the punishment of refractory soldiers in the field must be short and sharp when the army was operating in tropical latitudes, as the British army generally is. It will be apparent that dragging shot and laborious punishment of that nature may be very effective "on the banks of the frozen Danube" (as the Romans put it), where we believe it was first invented, but might prove worthless under a tropical sun, inasmuch as its infliction would land the culprit in the hospital before any real punishment had been endured. An incident arose in connection with the Indian Contingent which appears to strengthen this view. No sooner had the Beluchees landed at Suez than one of the men deserted. He is stated to have possessed a smattering of Arabic, and thought he could push his fortune among the Egyptians. Accordingly he set up as a fakir, but his success not answering his expectations, he was reduced to hanging about the outskirts of the British camp. As was to be expected, he was, in due course, pukarao'd, and brought in a prisoner. A court-martial, acting with considerable leniency, sentenced him to seven years' penal servitude. As part of the punishment he was set to carry loads—not of shot, but captured Remingtons. The labour, however, under the physical and climatic circumstances soon bowled him over, and he was sent to the hospital with fever. The doctors showed him great consideration, and provided him with a dhoolie and bearers by whom he was carefully borne along for the remainder of the march. As in this particular instance the convict will reap the consequences of his misconduct in the course of the seven years' labour to which he was condemned, the failure of the attempt to punish him on the march to Cairo is of little importance. But one can easily imagine a numerous class of offences, where the prospect of the cat acted as a deterrent, and which would practically go unpunished, if a few hours, or a few days' unusual exertion was to be rewarded by agreeable progress on a dhoolie for the remainder, or for any considerable portion, of a fatiguing march. This experience does not necessarily lessen the weight of the objections against flogging in the army, but it certainly requires (always considering the peculiar character and employment of the British army) areconsideration of the punishments which were substituted for it under the pressure of circumstances, and not from any belief in their efficacy.

THE severity of the march on Zagazig and Cairo fairly tested the powers of endurance of the various types of native troops. The special qualities of the Indian troops decided Sir Garnet Wolseley to mark them out for the rush on Zagazig to secure the trains. When this was accomplished three regiments were brought on to Cairo. These were the Beluchees, the 20th N.I., and the 7th N. I. They started on Friday evening (22nd September) about six o'clock in quick succession. The distance was 52 miles, mostly over loose sand, with three halts. On the third march the Beluchees started first, the 7th N. I. second, and the 20th last. Being provided with a guide, the Beluchees left the Freshwater Canal and took a short cut to Cairo. The two other regiments, unaware of the change of route, continued on the line of the canal, but notwithstanding the circuit they were compelled to take they arrived in Cairo before the Beloochees. The 20th—a regiment composed of Sikhs and Pathans—accomplished the march with extraordinary celerity, and the general opinion was that it was qualified to "walk the legs off" the other two. This regiment reached Cairo at seven o'clock on Sunday morning (24th), having covered the distance from Zagazig in about thirty-seven hours. The British troops, it may be added, followed in by rail.

THE EXPENSES OF THE INDIAN CONTINGENT.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

SIMLA, OCT. 17.

ALTHOUGH nothing official has yet been received on the subject, it is pretty generally considered that as regards the expenses of the war in Egypt, India will not be called upon to defray the whole of the extraordinary expenses incurred by the despatch of a Contingent from her shores, although it is thought more than probable that she will be called upon to pay a portion of that expenditure. The extraordinary expenses on account of the Indian troops are far larger, in proportion to the number of men employed, than those of the troops sent from England. This is, of course, owing to the extreme haste with which our Contingent, fully equipped in every detail, had to be sent off; tonnage taken up in haste in a limited market, and mules purchased, at the last moment, at a high figure, together with many other details of heavy expenditure which might have been avoided had time been given for preparation.

That the whole of this extra expenditure, entirely caused by the uncertainty in which the Indian Government was kept, up till the very last moment, will be charged to India, is considered improbable. It is thought that while both England and India will respectively bear their own ordinary expenses, the extraordinary expenses will be charged to each country in proportion to the number of men employed. What this extraordinary expenditure will amount to cannot, of course, be ascertained for some time, and there may be some difficulty in fixing the point up to which India will be considered as responsible for any extra expenses incurred. These, however, are matters of detail. It is generally believed that upon some such basis the extent to which India is liable will be calculated.

THE following petition of the Managing Committee of the Bombay Branch of the East India Association is to be presented to the House of Commons:—

1. That your petitioners have observed with much regret that Her Majesty's Government have proposed to charge the cost of the Indian Contingent of the Egyptian Expedition upon the revenues of India, and they therefore beg to approach your Honourable House with this appeal which they hope will receive consideration in the final determination of the question.

2. That before entering into the merits of this question your petitioners beg to express their heartfelt delight at the speedy termination of the Egyptian War and their gratification at the honors reaped by the Indian troops engaged in it.

3. Your petitioners humbly venture to point out that the proposal of burdening India with the cost of the contingent is not at all justified by the nature of the war, as it was undertaken entirely in the interests of India. The origin of

THE COLLISION WITH A P. & O. STEAMER.

A TELEGRAM has been received here by the Superintendent of the P. and O. Co. to the effect that the Peshawur will resume her voyage from Colombo to Australia on Monday, her damage not being serious.

WE regret to hear that the condition of Dr. Beatty, the Surgeon-General, is giving rise to some anxiety. Dr. Cody and Dr. Wellington Grey proceeded on Saturday to Poona to a consultation on the case.

H. H. THE THAKORE OF BHOWNUGGUR leaves Bombay by special train to-morrow morning. He reaches Surat at 6 p. m., and having it the same night by the steamer Bhownuggur, is expected to arrive at Bhownuggur on Wednesday afternoon.

AT the close of the trial of the fourteen alleged ringleaders in the Salem riots, on the 18th instant, the assessors expressed their opinion that the conspiracy was not premeditated, and returned a verdict of not guilty in regard to all the fourteen prisoners. Judgment was to be given on Saturday.

THE steamer British King, which was sunk a week or two ago at the entrance to Galle harbour, has been raised and is to be brought on to Bombay for repairs.

SIR LEPEL GRIFFIN is at present in Simla, having arrived on Thursday last. He is the guest of the Viceroy.

THE Indian Medical Gazette records two instances of very successful treatment of cholera by Surgeon-Major C. T. White, C.B., in the station hospital, Barrackpore, with sulphurous acid.

THE results of the several irrigation works in the North-West Provinces, stated in round numbers, are as follows. Six-and-a-half millions sterling have been laid out, and 1¾ millions of acres are supplied with permanent irrigation. The year's crops on this area are estimated to be worth about 5½ millions, and in a season of scarcity are, of course, worth infinitely more. The net income is £353,000, or very nearly 5 per cent. on the outlay.

THE official summary of the North-West Provinces Crop and Weather Report for the week ended on the 18th inst. states :—No rain has fallen except in Benares. The crops have suffered in Farrukhabad for want of rain, and rain is wanted in Lucknow and Rai Bareli. Prices show a tendency to rise. Cholera continues in Rai Bareli, Partabgarh, and Sitapur, and is disappearing in Lucknow, Moradabad, and Bareilly. Fever is prevalent. Cattle-disease continues in Fyzabad, Partabgarh, Saharanpur, and Kumaon, and has appeared in Sitapur.

C. VEERASWAMY, an employé of the Commissariat Department at Quetta, has been tried, and found guilty of having misappropriated Government property entrusted to his care while he was inspector in charge of the depôt at Durwaza. He was sentenced to four years' rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 2,000.

THE Bombay Municipal authorities would do well to take warning by a case recently heard before the Singapore Courts, and put certain of their ods into better order. We should not be surprised to hear some day of a serious carriage accident having been caused, for instance, by the iron grids covering the sewer man-holes, in Gilder Road, which stick up sometimes as much as a couple of inches above the level of the street. At Singapore, Brigade Major Paterson has obtained a verdict against the Municipal Commissioners, for damages alleged to have been sustained by his mare through a defect in a Municipal road. A local paper says :—"It is not known yet whether the Municipal Commissioners will appeal against the decision ; though it is believed they will, on the ground that the decision will pave the way to much litigation against them."

MR. GRANT DUFF'S earnest desire that Major Baring should visit the Madras Presidency is about to be fulfilled. When the Government breaks up at Simla, the Finance Minister, accompanied by Mr. Mackenzie, the Home Secretary, will proceed to Madras. Mr. Grant Duff's hope is that certain demands upon the imperial resources which the Madras Government has been making of late will be less resolutely resisted by the Supreme Government than hitherto, if he can have the opportunity of talking them over with the Financial Member. The questions at issue have to do with administration and the reorganization of districts, and on this account it has been considered desirable that Mr. Mackenzie should go too. Major Baring will go direct by rail to Madras, and Mr. Mackenzie vid Calcutta. Sir Steuart Bayley, accompanied by Mr. Buck, Director of Agriculture, will visit the Central and the North-West Provinces.

A RANGOON correspondent writes that certain Burmese ministers have an idea that the late disturbances at Minhla were instigated by the British in revenge for the breakdown of the treaty negotiations ; and the fact that one of the captured leaders hails from Poozoondoung, a suburb of Rangoon, is seized upon as evidence of British complicity. But no noise is being made over the matter, as the Avan Court are not quite certain what they should do with the British. The collapse of the Egyptian rebellion has astonished them not a little ; and reports are in circulation that the Chief Commissioner may soon get an Ambassadorial visit from the upper country for the purpose of reopening the negotiations which were broken off at Simla.

ON the subject of honours for the British commanders in Egypt, the London correspondent of the Pioneer writes :—

You will have heard by wire of the elevation of Sir Garnet Wolseley and Admiral Seymour to the peerage. The report goes here that this is to be accompanied with a heavy pecuniary grant, and the sum has been fixed as high as £50,000 each. Then it is said that Sir Garnet will be made a substantive General, which means an increase of pay amounting to £700 a year. The Government, which has been rehabilitated by the Egyptian campaign, are not unlikely to be disposed to be liberal to those who must be regarded as their saviours; but Parliament will have to be consulted, and it is possible we may hear something of the different ways in which warriors who gain laurels in Egypt are rewarded as compared with others who make their reputation, say, in Afghanistan. In the city there will, of course, be gay doings. Sir Garnet is already a Freeman of London; and as it is impossible to repeat the honour he will likely be presented with an Address in a gold casket and a sword of honour ; while the freedom will be conferred upon Sir B. Seymour, with the customary sword of honour. These gallant representatives of the two forces will also share between them the honours of a Guildhall or Mansion House Banquet, the cost of which is not to exceed £2,000.

A PRIVATE letter from Egypt has the following remarks on the work of the Indian Contingent :—As regards marching and hard work generally, the Indian troops have done well, and are justly praised. The Bengal Cavalry made a rapid march from Tel-el-Kebir to Cairo ; and if General Wilkinson had not spent quite so much time at a telegraph office on the way, they would have had the honour of first occupying Cairo, and of capturing Arabi. The native infantry, too, made a grand march from Kassassin to Zag-a-Zig, fighting the battle of Tel-el-Kebir on the way ; and now they have just marched in from Zag-a-Zig to Cairo, doing the 48 miles in 40 hours, over ground, for certainly most of the way, desert, and sinking up to the ankle in sand. The British troops have done nearly all their marching by train.

THE news of the success of the British arms in Egypt was received in Melbourne with great joy by all classes. A congratulatory telegram was sent by the Government to Mr. Gladstone on the 18th Sept. immediately after the publication of the news, and on the following day, when both Houses of Parliament met, they resolved to forward the following address to the Queen :—"We assure your Majesty that it is with feelings of pride we have heard of the brilliant victories that have attended the combined operations of your Majesty's naval and military forces in Egypt. We desire to offer to your Majesty our heartfelt congratulations upon the brilliant victories achieved by the combined forces, and by which the honour of our country has been upheld." The City Corporation of Melbourne also sent a similar telegraphic message to Mr. Gladstone, and on the 19th Sept. Sir Garnet Wolseley's brilliant victory was celebrated by a torchlight procession. In the colony generally, there were similar patriotic demonstrations.

THE Duke of Teck has had some rude experiences in Egypt of campaigning as an officer unattached to some special staff. At first he was left without servants, and had to groom his own horse ! All accounts agree that His Serene Highness exhibited great alacrity to serve, and was burning for an opportunity of doing good work. Of another officer of higher rank, who was seeking employment at the front, the Army and Navy Gazette will say nothing, as the mention of his name might vitiate his insurances, if anything happened. Of his gallantry, hereditary and personal, there can be no doubt,—though of his wisdom in putting himself in the way where he is not wanted, some proof might be required. Driving dromedaries in tandem does not tend to add to any reputation, except one for eccentricity.

A HOME service paper remarks :—The Admiralty appear to be determined that, in the event of the Egyptian question giving rise to European complications, which might involve this country in war with a maritime Power, every available means shall be utilised to defend our ocean highways. Apparently recognising the inability of the Navy, in its present numerically weak state, to safeguard our vast commerce upon the high seas, and insure an uninterrupted supply of grain being brought to our shores in safety, the Admiralty sent Mr. J. Dunn, Assistant-Constructor, to Portsmouth early in the week, to inspect the Orient, and other large transports just returned empty from Egypt, and report upon the fittings necessary to convert these vessels into armed cruisers.

AN examination was held on the 27th September to select "young persons of the female sex" for thirty appointments in the London Post Office Telegraph Department. The salary offered was to commence at only ten shillings per week, yet no less than eight hundred candidates presented themselves.

THE Paris Bourse estimates the total stock of gold in the world in use as coin or as banking reserves in one shape or other at about £580,000,000, of which total England has £126,000,000, France £136,000,000, Germany £80,000,000, and the United States £92,000,000.

THE Celestial Empire, published at Shanghai, states that two memorials have recently been presented to the throne in reference to affairs in Kuldja. One is by Liu Hi-yao, a member of the Hanlin, and the other is by Liu King-tang, one of the Imperial Commissioners at Kuldja. Both memorials point out that there are matters arising out of the settlement of the Kuldja question with Russia which require prompt attention. What these matters are has not been made public, but they are supposed to refer to difficulties not of an international character. The memorials have been transferred to the Board for careful consideration.

A CHINA paper says :—Outrages have been rather the rule than the exception at Foochow lately. The most recent one is an attack on Messrs. E. D. Sassoon and Co.'s premises, the depredators succeeding in carrying off a considerable quantity of opium, money, &c. "It is said that the robbers are satellites of the Taotai at the head of the Opium Inland Revenue. The matter has been placed in the hands of H. B. M. Minister ; and although attempts, we hear, have been made by the Chinese to make reparation, these offers have all been refused, thorough investigation being demanded. Several British war vessels have arrived at Foochow, presumably in connection with the affair."

PETER A. C. O'FARRELL, the man who shot at and wounded Archbishop Goold, was tried at the Melbourne Central Criminal Court on Sept. 20. There were three counts in the presentment against the prisoner, the first for wounding with intent to kill, which is a capital charge ; the others were for shooting at Archbishop Goold with intent to do grievous bodily harm and wounding with intent to do grievous bodily harm. The prisoner denied that he had intended to shoot the Archbishop. He only meant to frighten him. The first shot was fired accidentally : the second was intentionally fired, not at the Archbishop, but to one side of him. His Honour in summing up told the jury there was strong evidence against the prisoner to support the graver charge, but even if they accepted his statement as to the shooting being without intention to injure, the prisoner was guilty of the offence of unlawfully wounding. The jury acquitted the prisoner of the graver charges, but found him guilty of unlawfully wounding. His Honour sentenced him to two years' imprisonment. As a permanent memorial of their joy and gratitude at the escape of the Archbishop, the Roman Catholics of Melbourne have resolved to erect the central tower of St. Patrick's Cathedral, which edifice has for many years been in course of construction.

MILITARY NEWS.

RETURN OF THE INDIAN CONTINGENT.

THE Anchor Line steam transports Armenia and Galatia brought yesterday the second batch of the Indian Contingent from Egypt, namely, the 7-1 Royal Artillery. All the vessels in the Prince's Dock had dressed ship for the occasion, as they did on Thursday last on the arrival of the Deccan with the first batch of troops.

The Armenia, Captain George Read, left Suez at 1 p.m. on the 8th inst., arrived at Aden at 8-15 a.m. on the 14th inst., left Aden at 5-20 p.m. on the same day, and arrived in Bombay harbour about 6 a.m. yesterday. She experienced light breezes and fine weather throughout the passage. Having missed the morning tide, she lay at anchor all the day off the Prince's Dock. About 5. p. m., when a number of European and Parsee ladies and other spectators had assembled at the dock head to see the operation, the dock gates were opened, and under the superintendence of Mr. Walke and Mr. Conroy, the Armenia was taken in and berthed near the jetty shed. Some of the hydraulic cranes were set to work about 6 p.m. in disembarking the horses, mules, &c., which occupied some hours. They encamped on the Esplanade late in the evening. The Armenia had on board Major J. F. Free, R. A., Lieut. Cooper, R. A., Surgeon Major Bourns, R. A., Mr. A. W. Deane, Indian Marine, 1 warrant officer, 2 staff sergeants, 1 transport clerk, 42 rank and file, 54 fighting men, 72 followers, 1 pony, 10 horses, and 144 mules.

The Galatia, Captain J. D. Allison, with a complement of the battery, steamed up opposite the dock about 5 p. m. and followed in the wake of the Armenia without any detention. She was berthed on the side of the jetty shed to the east of the Armenia. The disembarkation of the battery will take place to-day. The Galatia had on board 2 officers, 59 European soldiers, 166 native soldiers, 26 followers, 3 horses, and 149 mules ; as well as Lieut. Roberts and Dr. Sheathers.

THE Afghan medals due to men of the 17th Bengal Native Infantry were distributed on parade, at Fort William, Calcutta, on Wednesday last, by Col. Walker, the commandant. Col. Walker on this occasion met the regiment, with which he has served 21 years, for the last time. He left by the same night's train for Bombay, en route to England, the 17th furnishing a guard of honour at the station.

SIR F. ROBERTS' cold weather tour will be an extended one. He was to leave Madras on the 16th October, and with the exception of returning for three weeks in January, will be travelling till the middle of March. Amongst the stations he is to visit are, besides Bangalore and Mysore, where he has already been, Beypore, Calicut, Cannanore, Secunderabad, Hoshungabad, Saugor, Hazaribagh, Dorunda, and Calcutta.

AN important decision has been given by the Secretary of State in the matter of the Local Cavalry officers' grievances. The officers concerned are to be granted the privilege of passing into the Staff Corps, with all the advantages of that service which would have accrued to them if they had made their election for the Staff Corps originally.

LIEUTENANT-COLONEL H. A. CHICHESTER, commanding the 2nd Royal North Lancashire Regiment, having retired, the command will devolve on Lieutenant-Colonel G. B. Bevan, who is now with the 2nd Battalion at Allahabad. The promotion of General W. Gordon, commanding the Peshawar District, to the rank of Major-General, should advance Brigadier-General Dandridge to the command of a first-class Brigade, though it does not necessarily follow that he will succeed General Gordon at Peshawar. The senior Colonel for a brigade is Colonel J. J. Gordon, C. B., Commandant of the 29th Punjab Infantry, who has held the command of his present regiment for 21 years.

THE inspection of the Simla Volunteers took place on Saturday week. Between two and three hundred Volunteers mustered at Annandale on the occasion. They were put through the march past, manual and firing exercises, battalion drill, extended order movements with blank ammunition, and several other exercises. The inspecting officer (Colonel Harvey, 1st Battalion King's Own Borderers) at the close of the exercises said he had been agreeably surprised by the accuracy with which all the movements, had been executed, particularly the battalion drill. He congratulated the Volunteers upon their appearance and the way they had manœuvred, and wished them to consider that Volunteers in India held a more responsible position than their comrades in England, inasmuch as, should troubles arise here, the Volunteers would take the front rank in the field as rifle marksmen, when he doubted not they would do their duty.

THE following postings have been made :—

Lieutenant Close, Norfolk Regiment, to the 2nd Battalion.

Lieutenant Mulock, King's Own Borderers, to the 1st Battalion.

Lieutenants Reade and Capper, East Lancashire Regiment, to the 1st Battalion.

Superintendent Brewin asked for an adjournment to Wednesday, in order that instructions might be given to the Public Prosecutor. "Major" Tucker and the other defendants had no objection to the adjournment. "Major" Tucker said he would probably have several witnesses to call. The defendants were released on bail in recognizances of Rs. 100 each.

PRINCE'S DOCK.—The s. s. Egbert left, and the s. s. Werneth Hall entered, the dock on Saturday.

ALLEGED THEFT.—Abdoola Ally, living on the first floor of a house in Syud Abdoola Rahimon-street, reported to the police the theft of wearing apparel and a quantity of gold filings and cash of the collective value of Rs. 155.

THE COADJUTOR BISHOP OF GOA.—At a Secret Consistory held by the Pope on the 25th September, the R. D. Anthony Joachim de Medeiros, Vicar General and Superior of the Mission of Timor, was named Coadjutor Bishop to the Archbishop of Goa, under the title of Bishop of Thermopylae.

MILL ACCIDENT.—Shaik Rahim Cassum, aged eleven years, had both his hands injured by their being jammed between the rollers of a cotton machine in the Mahaluxmee Spinning and Weaving Mills on Friday last. He was removed to the Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy Hospital for treatment.

HARVEST THANKSGIVING.—There were special harvest thanksgiving services at Trinity Church, Byculla, on Thursday evening and yesterday. The collections (amounting on Thursday to Rs. 185) are to be devoted to the funds of that excellent charity the Indo-British Institution, which we regret to hear is this year some Rs. 800 to the bad.

ASSAULTING A POLICE OFFICER.—William Walsh, a seaman living at the Sailors' Home, was on Saturday charged before Mr. W. Webb with being drunk and disorderly in a public place on Friday, and assaulting Inspector Boorer while he was being conveyed to the Fort police chowkey. The case stands postponed for hearing to the 24th instant.

TANTIA BHIL'S GANG OF DACOITS.—Some months ago we published some account of the doings of a gang of dacoits in the Central Provinces headed by Tantia Bhil. His two principal lieutenants, Bijnia, and Daolia, have been captured, the former hanged and the latter transported for life. Tantia is still at large, closely watched, and his powers of mischief very greatly curtailed, but he is nevertheless a source of anxiety to the authorities. A reward is now offered of Rs. 1,000 for his apprehension, and it is hoped that he will sooner or later be accounted for. In consequence of the breaking up of his gang and the close watch kept on his movements both by the police and the authorities of the Maharajah Holkar, into whose territories he used to disappear after a successful raid, dacoities have fallen from 36 in 1880 to 13 in 1881. The decrease was in the Nimar district, in which the numbers fell from 29 to 7.

THE NATIVE PRESS.

THE STATE GRANT TO THE PAREL CHURCH.

OF what use is it crying about the State grant to the proposed new church at Parel ? Our native contemporaries may as well bay at the moon. For who in this autocratically governed presidency cares a button for their Jeremiads against the thrice-told iniquity of spending public funds towards a denominational object ? If there be left a spark of public spirit among our citizens, then we ought to see a public meeting in the Town Hall agitating for the disestablishment of Anglican Churches. Nothing short of a respectful memorial to the House of Commons would remedy the present state of matters. Are our native "leaders" awake ? Or are they still busy bow-wowing, salaaming, gesticulating, tom-toming, and bagpiping at Parel and other petty Chiefs, and have no leisure or inclination to take up grand imperial matters ?—Indian Spectator.

SHORT LENGTH PIECE-GOODS.

We heartily commend the action taken by the Native association. But we would direct their attention to a similar practice which is being pursued in our mills and try their utmost to nip the evil in bud.—Id.

"OUR TRULY GREAT VICEROY."

We dare say all India will readily and cheerfully acquiesce in the justice of the observations made regarding the Viceroyalty of Lord Ripon in the columns of the Times, in the concluding portion of its article on "The Peace of India." No Viceroy in later times has so quietly and unostentatiously applied himself to the formidable task of governing, and governing wisely and well, a subject race of diverse creeds and races numbering 200 million souls, and we are glad to see that Lord Ripon will duly endorse the tribute of praise the writer has accorded to our truly great Viceroy.—Id.

STATE LOANS.

The reasons urged in last Wednesday's Bombay Gazette, are to our mind quite cogent. Lord Hartington well knew that though he had for a while shut his eyes to the annual sale of Council bills by other accidental financial operations, sooner or later he would have to borrow to meet other heavy liabilities which were in the meantime accumulating, or had accumulated. We agree with our contemporary that the Government of India is bound to tell every thing to the public. And so also the Secretary of State for India. It will not do to keep the country in the dark for months together, allow the cash balances to run ridiculously low and let liabilities swell, and then all of a sudden advertise for loans at a period when money markets begin to be dear. We think the different Provincial Chambers of Commerce ought also to send a united protest to the Secretary of State against such an unbusiness-like way of managing State finance, tending indirectly to unhinge private monetary transactions also.—Id.

THE THAKORE OF BHOWNUGGUR.

The Prince has been feted and entertained as no other Kattywar prince or chief was honoured before. This speaks volumes for his popularity. He has left some useful permanent souvenirs of his visit in the shape of handsome donations to educational and other institutions. The present of Rs. 5,000 for the establishment of a spectroscopic laboratory in connection with Elphinstone College is a liberal one indeed, and Principal Wordsworth is to be congratulated on having been able to form the nucleus of a fund for this praiseworthy and useful object.—Id.

MR. GIBBS.

The Hon. James Gibbs intends passing a few weeks in Bombay, where he is expected about the middle of November, before returning to Calcutta. It is unfortunate that neither Calcutta nor Simla agrees with Mr. Gibbs so well as his own Presidency.—Id.

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT.

We are glad to learn that a committee has been formed in Bombay of gentlemen belonging to or directly interested in Gujarat for the purpose of taking the necessary steps to advance the cause of local self-government from the popular side. This Committee would act as a Central Committee in co-operation with local committees in the Gujarat Districts. This was decided at a preliminary meeting held on the 8th instant. A managing committee composed of the following gentlemen was appointed to carry out the objects of the meeting, with power to add to their number :—Members :—Mr. Javerilal U. Yajnik, Justice of the Peace, Bombay, Mr. Mansuklal M. Munshi, B. A., L.L. B., Solicitor, High Court, Justice of the Peace, Mr. Bhaishankar Nanabhai, Solicitor High Court, Mr. Runchodbhai Oodeyram, Mr. Mansukhram Suryaram, Mr. Echaram S. Desai, Mr. Vizbhucandas A. Mehta, Merchant, Justice of the Peace, Bombay. Honorary Joint Secretaries :—Mr. Thakurdas A. Mehta, B. A., L.L. B., Solicitor, Justice of the Peace, Bombay, and Mr. Gokuldas K. Parakh, B. A., L.L. B., Vakil High Court, Justice of the Peace, Bombay. It were much to be wished there were a general Committee in Bombay to interest itself in the welfare of the entire Presidency which labours to support the splendour of this capital, and we hope the reported revival of the Bombay Association will turn out a fact and supply the want.—Native Opinion.

THE severe wigging administered to the Bombay Government has begun to produce its desired effect, and ere long we hope to see the Government of Bombay not applying itself in an "unintelligent" way to the practical working out of the views of the India Government. The last issue of the Bombay Government Gazette contains a notification raising about 14 Town Municipalities to the status of city municipalities, so that Virangaum, Nadiad, Thana, Callian, Satara, Nasik, Yeola, Malegaum, Pundhurpore, Dhulia, Belgaum, Dharwar, Hubli, and Rutnagherry will enjoy the benefit of the new scheme from April next. We do not quite understand why Dholka and Carwar should not have been included in the list. The population of Dholka according to the census of 1872 is over 20 thousand.—Mahratta.

SIR HERBERT MACPHERSON.

The movement on the part of the Natives in and about Allahabad to raise a fund for presenting a sword of honour to General Macpherson on his return to India has our hearty approval. It is a commendable movement every way. General Macpherson, as the Commander of the Indian Contingent, has by his ability and energy, cool judgment and intrepid action, won for himself and the army under his command a renown of which Great Britain and India alike are proud, and which, while serving to lend new strength to the prestige of the English soldier will serve to raise the repute of the fighting qualities of the Indian sepoy throughout the world. In presenting to the General the sword of honor as a token of their esteem and regard, for, not to say gratitude to the gallant General on his return to this country, the natives will be doing greater honor to themselves than to him.—Bombay Chronicle.

SIR F. ROBERTS ON RIFLE SHOOTING.

IN his speech at the presentation of prizes in connection with the recent Southern India Rifle Association meeting at Bangalore, Sir Frederick Roberts said :—Anything which conduces to the efficiency of soldiers has had, and always will have, my warmest sympathy ; and I feel that I cannot give a better proof of this than by doing all in my power to encourage rifle shooting. It seems quite unnecessary for me to remark how important it is that an Army should be able to shoot well. Now that arms of precision have been generally introduced, it is more essential than ever that soldiers should know how to use their rifles with accuracy ; and this is perhaps more applicable to our soldiers than to those of other nations, for they will very frequently be called upon to face very great odds, and it is only by their superior discipline, and by being good marksmen, that they can hope to be successful. We soldiers know that musketry instruction is attracting considerable attention at the present time ; all soldiers and sergeants are now required to pass a practical examination in the subject, and to show that they are thoroughly competent to teach and train the men of their company. This is a step in the right direction, and will, I am satisfied, be attended with the happiest results. The primary instruction is given in the barrack square, and on the regimental ranges, but I hope that, ere long, it will be found possible, by some mechanical contrivance, for rifles to be used in the barrack rooms. Some such arrangement already exists, and will doubtless soon be perfected by the ingenious inventor. I have seen it, and ordered one to be sent to me ; but, unfortunately, it has not arrived in time to be tested this meeting. It would be invaluable in India, where, for many months in the year, out-of-doors instruction can only be carried on for a very short time, morning and evening. Those men who take advantage of the several courses of musketry which they have to go through while with their regiments, are rewarded by being able to compete for prizes at meetings such as this. These Associations, besides being of the greatest benefit to the Army itself, have a very pleasant aspect in the fact that they bring together, in the same arena, the regular soldier and his comrade, the Volunteer. A keen but friendly rivalry takes place in consequence, and each branch of the service learns to appreciate the good qualities of the other. The contests this season have, I understand, been most interesting ; and I congratulate, both soldiers and volunteers on their success at the targets. I am glad to know that the Bangalore troops have come well to the front, and I am also glad that the representatives of regiments at a distance have carried off a fair share of the prizes ; it will be an inducement to them to come again, I hope, and to other regiments to follow the good example. This is a fitting occasion for me to thank—on behalf of myself and of the Army of Southern India generally—Major Saunders the late Secretary to this Association, for the untiring zeal he has displayed during the past five years in the cause of musketry, and more particularly in promoting the success of these meetings. It is much to be regretted that the regulations of the service necessitate Major Saunders' retirement ; but I am glad think that he is not to be allowed to leave us without taking with him some mark of our regard. All members will, I am sure, gladly respond to the proposal to present an appropriate testimonial to one to whom we are all so much indebted.

PROFECTURUS VALEDICIT.

FAREWELL to thee, Land of the Sun !
Too long in thy glare have I stayed ;
Little good in thy beams have I won,
And I long for a corner of shade.
The Sun, that is elsewhere a friend,
Has been here only known as a foe ;
And the cheer that his face ought to lend
Has been weariness, wasting, and woe.
Every day that is lived in thy glare,
Is a day that is lost to our span,
With its honours that office-hacks share,
And its fame—he may value who can.
In the shade we may sit at our ease,
And barter sham splendour for health ;
And, with green grass and life in the breeze,
Forget the dull craving for wealth.
So farewell to this furnace of earth,
Its barrenness, baseness, and fibs ;
Its food without hunger, its laughs without mirth,
And its poor one-and-eightpenny dibs.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An External Means of CURING SKIN DISEASES. There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferers for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcular life which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy, natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d. Made by J. PEPPER and Co., London. Sold by TREACHER and Co.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health, For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs, is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections and in wasting disease, scrofulous tendencies, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; Family size, 11s. Sold by Chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. It is strongly recommended to residents in India and the Colonies, and should always be kept ready for use in every case of fever or febrile condition. Sold by TREACHER & Co.

TARAXACUM and PODOPHYLLIN—Prepared only by J. Pepper, London. This Fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia-biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, headache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6d. Sold by all Chemists. A most valuable and essential medicine for India, Australia, the Cape, and Colonies generally.

LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR-RESTORER will darken grey hair, and in a few days completely bring back the natural colour. The effect is superior to that produced by an instantaneous dye, and does not injure the skin.

LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR-RESTORER is the best for restoring grey hair to its former colour. It produces a perfectly natural shade, and is absolutely harmless. Recommended for destroying scurf and encouraging growth of new hair.
